

GROUP MEMBERS

WILLIAM RODGERS

www.goodcents.com

William A. Rodgers, Jr. is the president and CEO of GoodCents Holdings, Inc. a leading North American company specializing in smart grid solutions, energy efficiency programs and extensive research and data analysis based in Atlanta, GA. By partnering with utilities, GoodCents delivers integrated energy conservation services to their customers across the US and Canada. He represents the International Facility Management Association (IFMA). Prior to GoodCents, Bill was the President and CEO of EMCOR Facilities Services, Inc. responsible for the overall business strategy and growth and the Chief Operating Officer of the Integrated Facilities Management business unit of Johnson Controls. Throughout his 30+ year career, Bill has been responsible for developing and executing critical strategies leading to significant business growth and operational efficiencies. Bill also serves as the Chairman of the Board of Georgia Center for Opportunity.