CHRIS BANKS

Gensler

Chris' impact on design is evident in her legacy of groundbreaking projects and the effect of her leadership as an advocate, activist, and mentor of the design community.

In over 38 years with Gensler, Chris has been responsible for the design of millions of square feet of interiors ranging from corporate headquarters to airport terminals to secured facilities for government clients. Chris understands how interiors can define a workplace and increase productivity and employee engagement. As a strong advocate for universal planning, she merges form and function to create spaces that create a high quality of life for users, save time and money, and meet critical organizational goals, focusing on innovative environments for the workplace. Her award winning projects have been published in Interior Design, Contract Design, Progressive Architecture, Facilities Design & Management, DBZ (Germany), A&D (Brazil), World Architecture and Architecture magazine.
