URI ELIAHU

ENGEO

As President of ENGEO, Mr. Eliahu promotes technical excellence and extraordinary client service throughout the firm. Under his leadership, ENGEO has become the consultant of choice for transportation projects, urban infill and redevelopment of Brownfields, master-planned, mixed-use development, large-scale earthwork, industrial sites and military bases. In 2012, Mr. Eliahu established operations in New Zealand, as part of the firm's emergency response to the earthquake devastation there.

Mr. Eliahu is a Civil Engineering graduate from the University of California at Berkeley, and is a Registered Geotechnical Engineer in California and a Registered Civil Engineer in California and Nevada. He is a Founding Director of the California Association of Geologic Hazard Abatement Districts (GHADs) and its current President.

In 2009, Mr. Eliahu was selected Civil Engineer of the Year by the American Society of Civil Engineers and in 2008, he was voted Businessman of the Year by the San Ramon Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Eliahu is a leading expert of entitlement and regulatory processes. During his career, Mr. Eliahu has lent his expertise to a wide range of complex projects in a number of settings. He has developed and fostered close relationships with a number of decision-making officials in many local, state, and federal jurisdictional agencies domestically and abroad. He has consistently been able to deftly navigate potentially prohibitive technical and political constraints, resulting in timely, cost-effective delivery of project entitlements. Mr. Eliahu is a trusted advisor to a vast group of public and private clients and colleagues.
